Arts & the Union

Thursday 5 November 2020

6pm on Zoom

In partnership with Goodenough College, Holborn, London

Please join us for the Cumberland Lodge Annual Dialogue, examining the role of the arts in connecting the four nations of the United Kingdom.

With 'Brexit' looming, regional devolved powers demonstrating their assertiveness amidst the COVID-19 pandemic, and renewed calls for Scottish independence and Irish unification, many people feel that the unity of the UK is increasingly at stake.

- How are national identities expressed within the rich cultural heritage of the UK?
- What role do the arts play in building bridges within and across communities?
- How can the power of the arts be harnessed to unite the four nations across boundaries?

Everyone is welcome to join this panel discussion online, with the opportunity to contribute to audience questions. Our Chair of Trustees, The Rt Hon the Baroness Prashar of Runnymede, will be joined by guest panellists from each of the four nations, representing a wealth of experience from within the UK's arts and culture sector.
